Term Evaluation for Certification

This class consists of an informal meeting between the teacher and student, or the pastor and the student (except in cases of self-directed study). In cases of self-directed study, it is expected the student is already involved in full-time ministry, and that he has already received approval from his sending church to fulfill the ministry he has been called to. Students following a self-directed study would send their information to B.I. in Rhode Island for evaluation. In most cases, this evaluation should take between one and two hours. It is at the discretion of the teacher/pastor to determine how long he should discuss the things required. In some cases, where the relationship between the teacher/pastor and the student are close, this class should not take much time to complete.

The teacher /pastor performing the term evaluation should discuss these topics with the student. If study is self-directed, the student should send written comments to B.I. on these points:

- Have you experienced progress in school related to your knowledge and understanding of doctrine?
- Do you understand your doctrine is defined by what you do and teach?
- Do you understand the material as presented?
- What are some of the most important doctrines (commandments) you have realized?
- Do you have questions in general or particular related to the school and its classes?
- Is there any class in particular that you want to discuss?
- Do you see the necessity and application of the material?
- What are some things that have helped you the most?
- What stand out as being something you have learned?
- Have you experienced first-hand scripture distribution to individuals in need of the gospel?
- Have you used the scriptures in personal one-on-one evangelism?
- How have been involved in scripture publishing?
- What in-depth studies have you done that are related to assigned classes?
- What language study or work have you done in the past year?

- Have you studied and been shown by God the differences between the two families of New Testament manuscripts?

This sheet should be filled out by the teacher for each student and kept on file. For self-directed studies, the student can fill out the information and send it to BI via electronic email.
